T. Justin Moore, Jr.

1984 Commencement Speaker

Honorary Doctor of Laws Recipient

Strong commitment to the growth and future of Richmond and Virginia distinguishes T. Justin Moore, Jr. foremost as a statewide leader. Mr. Moore helped create and serves as board chairman of Richmond Renaissance, a nonprofit corporation utilizing both private and public funds to promote economic development and improved racial relations in Richmond. In addition, Mr. Moore was chairman of the Governor's Task Force on Science and Technology, which proposed the Center for Innovative Technology, of which Virginia Commonwealth University will play a leading role in research.

Chairman of the board of directors of Dominion Resources Inc. and its subsidiary, Virginia Electric and Power Company, Mr. Moore has been involved in many worthwhile endeavors. He is a former campaign chairman of the Richmond United Givers Fund (now the United Way of Greater Richmond), and has served as chairman of its board of governors. He is a former chairman of the Virginia College Building Authority, a former chairman and member of the board of trustees of the Virginia Foundation for Independent Colleges, a member of the Conference Board and a former board member of the Governor's Advisory Board on Industrial Development.

A native of Richmond and a graduate of Princeton University, Mr. Moore received his bachelor of laws degree from the University of Virginia in 1950. He then joined the Richmond law firm of Hunton & Williams, serving as a partner from 1955 to 1967, when he was elected senior vice president and principal financial officer of Vepco. He was elected president and board member in 1970, board vice chairman and chief executive officer in 1978 and board chairman later in 1978.

For his outstanding achievements to his city and state as a community and business leader, and for his contributions to higher education, Virginia Commonwealth University honors Mr. T. Justin Moore, Jr.

William E. Massey, Sr.

1984 Recipient of the Edward A. Wayne Medal

A philanthropist whose generous and continued support has helped build Virginia Commonwealth University, William E. Massey, Sr. exemplifies the spirit of humanity. Through Mr. Massey's generosity, the Massey Cancer Center was completed and named in honor of Mr. Massey; his wife, Margaret H. Massey; and his brother, the late Evan Massey. The medical facility, the largest of its kind in the state, is involved in diagnosis, treatment, research and education related to cancer and is located on the university's Medical College of Virginia campus.

A native of Ansted, West Virginia, Mr. Massey moved with his family throughout the Virginia and Kentucky coal mining country before settling in Richmond, where Mr. Massey's father founded the A.T. Massey Coal Company Inc. in 1916. Mr. Massey, who attended the University of Richmond, retired as chairman of the board in 1977, after serving the company for more than 50 years. He then assumed the presidency of the Massey Foundation, which contributes to many educational and charitable causes.

To honor Mr. Massey's extraordinary service to Virginia Commonwealth University, he will be awarded the Edward A. Wayne Medal, one of the highest honors bestowed by the university. The award is named in honor of Edward A. Wayne, chairman of the commission which established Virginia Commonwealth University in 1968.

John A. Mapp

1984 Presidential Medallion Recipient

As dean of the Virginia Commonwealth University Evening College and Summer Sessions, John A. Mapp served the university with dedication and enthusiasm. During his tenure from 1964 to his retirement in 1978, the evening college's enrollment grew and eventually ranked first nationally. In addition, Mr. Mapp advanced the importance of summer study by serving as president of the North American Association of Summer Sessions.

Although retired, Mr. Mapp continues to serve the university and the Richmond community. He is vice president of the board of the Shepherd's Center of Richmond, which holds the "Free University" classes for senior citizens who are taught by current and emeriti faculty and staff, including Mr. Mapp. His civic involvement also includes serving as president of the Capital Area Agency on Aging, chairman of the Richmond Area Inter-Club Council, secretary of the board of the "Presbyterian Outlook," and co-chairman of the community service division of the United Way of Greater Richmond, among others. A graduate of the College of William and Mary, Mr. Mapp currently has his own consulting firm.

In recognition of his outstanding contributions to the university, Mr. Mapp will be awarded the newly established Presidential Medallion.

Daniel T. Watts

1984 Presidential Medallion Recipient

Development of the School of Basic Sciences of Virginia Commonwealth University is the accomplishment of Dr. Daniel T. Watts. Under Dr. Watts' leadership as its dean from 1966 to 1982, the school achieved national prominence. The School of Basic Sciences offers advanced degrees in eight biomedical sciences and is first in Virginia in the number of advanced degrees awarded in biomedical disciplines.

Dr. Watts retired as dean in 1982 and holds the title of professor emeritus in pharmacology and toxicology. A native of Wadesboro, North Carolina, Dr. Watts was a high school chemistry and biology teacher and a basketball coach before he acquired a Ph.D. in physiology from Duke University.

After service as an aviation physiologist with the U.S. Navy during World War II, he joined the faculty of the University of Virginia School of Medicine. He later assumed the chairmanship of the Department of Pharmacology at the West Virginia University. He has been recognized internationally for his many accomplishments in teaching and research in Pharmacology.

For his outstanding contributions to the university, Dr. Watts will be awarded the newly established Presidential Medallion.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

Academic costume worn today at American college exercises goes back in its essential features to the Middle Ages. The oldest universities of northern Europe, such as Paris and Oxford, grew out of church schools, and both faculty and students were regarded in the Middle Ages as a part of the clergy. They wore clerical costumes, largely borrowed from the monastic dress of that day not just on special occasions, but as their regular costume.

The head covering of the academic costume developed from the skull cap worn by the clergy in cold weather to protect their tonsured heads. In the universities, this skull cap acquired a point on top, which gradually evolved into a tassel. The bonnet with tassel is still worn by degree holders of European universities. In America, it has been replaced by the familiar mortar board, which still retains the mediaeval tassel.

The hood (the mediaeval caputium) was originally a head covering worn over the head in bad weather; otherwise dropped on the shoulders as the monk's cowl. At first it was worn by faculty and students alike, but in the early sixteenth century it was restricted to graduates, thus it became the mark of a degree holder. Today, each college has its distinctive hood lining by which its graduates may be recognized in academic processions.

The gown worn today is the mediaeval roba and seems to have been borrowed from the habit of the Benedictine monks. In the Middle Ages, undergraduates, bachelors, and masters could be distinguished by the simplicity or elaborateness of their gowns. The doctor's gown was often furred — this survives today in the ornamentation found on the doctoral gowns. Usually the gown is black, but some colleges have colored gowns.

The wide velvet borders extending down the front of the doctoral gown, the velvet bars on the sleeves, and the borders of most hoods are colored according to the scholarly field of the wearer. Some of these are:

Arts, Letters, and the Humanities	White
Business	Drab
Dentistry	Lilac
Education	Light Blue
Fine Arts, Architecture	Brown
Laws	Purple
Library Science	Lemon
Medicine	Green
Music	Pink
Nursing	Apricot
Pharmacy	Olive Green
Philosophy	Dark Blue
Public Health	Salmon
Science	Golden Yellow
Social Service	Citron
Theology	Scarlet

THE UNIVERSITY

As the state's largest urban university, Virginia Commonwealth University plays a major role in the region in the fields of education, research, health care and community service. The university encompasses two campuses — the academic campus in the historic Fan District, and the Medical College of Virginia campus in the downtown business district, where the 1,056-bed MCV Hospitals is located. Virginia Commonwealth University was created by an act of the General Assembly on July 1, 1968, with the merger of Richmond Professional Institute and the Medical College of Virginia. The university takes its founding date from the Medical College of Virginia, which was established in 1838. Today the campuses blend the old and new, with historic homes adapted into offices and classrooms to accompany new high-rise buildings.

Virginia Commonwealth University maintains a strong commitment as an integral force in the area's cultural, educational and economic life. This ranges from offering more than 200 concerts a year in the Performing Arts Center, including concerts by the highly acclaimed VCU Jazz Orchestra, to developing a series of revitalization plans for targeted areas of the City of Richmond. Its scope as a major research and graduate university in the United States provides faculty and staff with more than 350 sponsored research projects. The university ranks among the top 80 in attracting research grants. Some of the research is undertaken at MCV Hospitals, one of the four largest University-owned hospitals in the United States and a designated Level I Trauma Center.

The university's growth has been rapid, with enrollment now surpassing 20,000. The university's 2,000 full and part-time faculty have distinguished themselves both in teaching and research. To meet the needs for quality classrooms, research facilities, offices, dormitories and student facilities, six major buildings will have opened by summer 1984 within a period of approximately two years.

Virginia Commonwealth University offers undergraduate, doctoral and first professional degree programs. There are 39 degree programs unique to Virginia. Among them are seven doctoral degree programs, including the only pharmacy and pharmaceuticals degree in the state. The university also offers the state's only doctor of dental surgery professional degree. Students are enrolled in the College of Humanities and Sciences and in the Schools of Allied Health Professions, The Arts, Basic Sciences, Business, Community Services and Public Affairs, Dentistry, Education, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, Social Work and Graduate Studies. To meet the needs of all students, the university operates highly developed day, evening and summer sessions.

Supporting the instructional programs are the James Branch Cabell Library on the Academic Campus and the Tompkins-McCaw Library on the Medical College of Virginia Campus. The library collections exceed 456,000 volumes and is supplemented by many special collection in the arts, sciences, humanities and biomedical areas.
